

MISTER SKYE

The Saga of Mister Skye

24 years or so ago, while at a gun show in Sydney, met up with a guy flogging SASS here in Australia, watched some videos of Cowboy Action Shooting and realized this was right up my ally. So I joined instantly as a life member. At the time I was a member of a Black Powder shooting club, muskets and all that but I also had the right gear for SASS.

I was also reading novels of Skye's West and thought what better alias for a shooter that wears a top hat.

Mister Skye jumped ship in Vancouver, headed for the west becoming an outcast from the British Navy. He was or is a genuine character, had two wives, loved a drink or three and travelled great distances; he had a longhaired horse, called Jawbone With one ear that was attack trained.

Mister Skye would only answer to Mister Skye or Skye to those he owed money to, Or very close friends.

“The stories go on and on to this day”